

DECLARATION OF LIABILITY

concerning the usage of information and practices presented on
<https://oanaratiu.com>

By choosing to read the articles published on the website in full or in part, the reader agrees to the following information as binding and acknowledges that the information provided herein applies even if the reader chooses not to read the "DECLARATION OF LIABILITY".

The user/reader agrees and accepts that any and all risks associated with using the information on this site are solely the users/readers.

I recommend my writings primarily to readers over the age of 18. If the articles are addressed to minors as well, minors will need to have the permission and supervision of an adult (preferably parent, educator) to test the exercises.

The main aim of the articles published on <https://oanaratiu.com> (hereinafter referred to as "the site") is to provide a wide range of quality content mostly in the area of stress relief, self help, information and spiritual support to readers (practitioners) regardless of their affiliation.

The site's articles (unless otherwise indicated) are owned by the site owner - Oana Ratiu, facilitator and stress relief expert (hereafter referred to as the owner, author, expert).

I'm not a doctor. My ideas, suggestions, exercises, techniques, or shared links are informal, do not include medical or psychological counseling. I respect the work of doctors, I respect the medical protocol, and I do not intend to interfere with medical treatments, nor to influence our readers concerning ongoing medical treatments. If the reader is under medical treatment, or she is expecting a child or breastfeeding, or s/he requires physical, emotional, mental support, is kindly asked to acquire a specialist's opinion before trying out any exercise or practice published on the site.

In my articles, I only share thoughts, which are not intended to diagnose, nor to be a substitute for a healthy lifestyle and medical care, and I do not recommend under any circumstances that my readers abandon their existing medical treatment, medicines or any medicines prescribed to them or change their dosage.

My writings and practices are for private individuals, they can help users in solving everyday stress and building a healthy self-esteem and self-confidence. I strive to provide the helpful information I know as clearly as possible, to the best of my knowledge, so that I can contribute to the readers' well-being.

Although I share all (written, audio, video, and other) material and related links to this site with the best intentions, I cannot give information that works efficiently for everyone as a whole.

It cannot be guaranteed that the techniques published in my articles will work on any or all problems for every reader, even if they have already successfully been tried by many people in various cases. I ask that the reader, in full knowledge of his/her responsibility, to decide in good judgment what are the best practices to use for them personally.

While most people report positive results with the techniques, I ask the readers to take into account that trying these practices, seldom there may be an emotional or physical feeling of discomfort as a side effect, generally for a short time. If the reader experiences this effect, I recommend the suspension of the exercise or if the symptoms get worse, seek medical or therapeutic support.

Members of the <https://oanaratiu.com> team, site operators, uploaders, and authors cannot be held liable for any adverse change in the physical, mental, emotional and mental status of readers/users, whether due to improper use of the exercises or any other factors that are already in existence or are outside of the content of the site during the course of the exercise, factors which are independent of the content of the site.

By accepting this Declaration of Liability, the reader/user expressly acknowledges that the operators and authors of the site are not responsible for any negative results or negative experiences. By visiting this site, the reader/user agrees to the terms and conditions of this Declaration and acknowledges that the site operators, uploaders and authors of this site are not responsible for any damages resulting from the practical use of this site.

For every pleasant and unpleasant change, the reader/user takes full responsibility. The reader/user acknowledges that the practices from the site can be used by everyone according to their free will and at their own responsibility. The authors of the site also assume that readers/users act with caution and responsibility during using the exercises.

Our readers under the age of 18 can use the exercises from this site with parental, guardian's consent and adult (parental) supervision. In the case of a minor reader, the responsibility of any kind, resulting from exercise shall be the responsibility of the guardian and /or the adult present during the practicing of the exercises, under the terms of this declaration.
